Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 20 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Patchy rain early Sunday, then fine with sunny spells.

This Evening and Tonight:
Staying dry during the evening, but probably on the cloudy side. Becoming more generally cloudy during the early hours as some patchy light rain and drizzle moves southwards. Probably staying frost free given cloud-cover. Light winds. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Sunday:
Perhaps a rather cloudy and damp start in places, but soon brightening up to a dry day with pleasant sunny spells. Temperatures will be a little higher than on Saturday. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mostly dry but on the cloudy side to start the working week, although some sunny spells are possible. Perhaps more generally cloudy with the chance of some rain by midweek.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.